John Dineen

Over forty years' experience on all sides of the real estate equation, as a client, a consultant, a landlord and a tenant. In 2007 I formed Quercia Private Ltd as a Project & Property Management consultancy, offering a full professional service to private clients throughout Europe, to fulfill all aspects of their residential and real estate needs. Projects ranged from new build developments to historical monument restoration & refurbishments, valued at over €180m and completed across seven countries. Quenched Quercia Private Ltd in 2020.

Prior to Quercia Private I worked for nineteen years with Boston based electronics manufacturer EMC from its arrival in Cork in 1988 and held numerous positions such as Manufacturing Engineer, Facilities Manager, Project Manager and EMEA Director of Real Estate & Facilities, managing a portfolio of circa 1.5million ft2 spanning 32 countries.

The first ten years of my professional life was spent with civil / engineering consultants operating in the construction management field and the fit out of electronic manufacturing start up facilities in Cork.

Most recently I was part of the volunteer team working on the five-year strategic plan for Irish Squash prior to its launch March 2022 and subsequently over the last two years as a consultant to Irish Squash heading up the Strategic Delivery Group tasked with the implementation of the plan. Chaired SDG meetings during this period.

A keen squash player since 1978, a member of Highfield Squash club and I have represented Ireland at various Masters age groups over the last fifteen years. Level 1 coach and actively coaching juniors, and adult players on a weekly basis.

Qualified Manufacturing Engineer with an MBA from Henley/ Brunel UK.
